The Rupharelia Foundation,
KAMPALA

Dear Dr. Sudhir Ruparelia,

RE: APPRECIATION FOR YOUR KIND SUPPORT

On behalf of the management of Chimpanzee Sanctuary & Wildlife Conservation Trust (Chimpanzee Trust) and my behalf, we would like to acknowledge and send our sincere appreciation for your generous contribution of UGX 10,000,000 (ten million shillings) towards the feeding of the chimpanzees on Ngamba Island Chimpanzee Sanctuary. These funds will go a long way to ensuring the survival of the rescued and orphaned chimpanzees in our care, as we navigate the effects of lockdown brought about by the COVID-19 global pandemic.

Your generosity and support is what motivates us to do what we do for the welfare and conservation survival of endangered species like the chimpanzee, man's closest relative. On behalf of the Board of Trustees, management and staff and, the chimpanzees, I take this opportunity to thank you.

We thank you and wish you more blessings.

Partners in the Welfare of Wildlife

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Joshua Rukundo

during the lockdown imposed as a fight against the spread of COVID-19.

The teachers and staff of the school had been left stranded when it was closed and all the non-teaching staff.

The Old Budonians Club, a body that brings together people that attended both King's College, Budo and Budo Junior School, came to and the US answered the call and, as a result, 242 teachers and staff (182 from King's College and 60 from Budo Junior), were given a package to help see them eggs, wheat and maize flour, cooking oil, groundnuts, rice and UHT milk.

The president of the Old Budonians Club, Jimmy Rodgers Katende, praised those it has not harder than most," he said.

"So it is commendable that we share the little we have with those that do not have anything."

MORE ENTITIES CONTRIBUTE TOWARDS TASK FORCE FUND

Ben Carson, the author of Gifted Hands, is quoted saying: "Happiness does not result from what we get, but from what we give." Uganda, like the world over, has been hit by the coronavirus pandemic. It has left many in fear of the future, the economy and life in general. Because of this, organisations and individuals have contributed to the national task force fund that was formulated to support the country during the COVID-19 period. Vision photojournalists bring us what happened in the different areas
