PROPOSAL TO AVAIL 6 MILLION BOOKS FREE TO THE YOUTHS OF UGANDA:

Background of the proposal.

According to current UBOS figures, almost 70% of the youths in Uganda are unemployed which is not only devastating to the economy but it is also a security risk to our country. This rampant unemployment is caused by so many reasons of which some factors are a result of our poorly packaged outdated curriculum which was left to us by the colonial masters that teaches about only white collar jobs than blue collar jobs. Ben Ssebuguzi, the author of this book "Life After University", has decided to help change the mindset of youths through writing this impeccable book to change society. In all countries, private sector is the biggest employer and we if we do nothing about fostering private investments, then we shall lag behind. Let us join hands, let us work with government to develop our country. It starts with you and me. We must change attitude of our youths by giving them information to read at no cost. Contributors are also free to take half of the copies bought.

BOOK LAUNCH:

Life After University book launch will be in November 25th 2016 and will be presided over by the Head of State who will also be our Chief Guest and On that day, we shall invite also University heads to take free copies of books to be given to University students.

Please pay in the names of Ben Ssebuguzi
