Dear Sir,

RE: Oktoberfest Kampala (1st October 2016)

Oktoberfest Kampala is an annual event carried out under the auspices of the German Embassy.

Oktoberfest is an important part of Bavarian culture, having been held annually since 1810, in Munich, Bavaria, Germany. More than 6 million people from around the world attend the event every year. Several countries have adopted the festival as a way of celebrating their friendship with Germany.

Last year's edition of Oktoberfest Kampala took place on 3rd October 2015 at the Uganda Museum gardens, and was Kampala's successful version of the world's largest festival and funfair. Kampala has had a strong and vibrant tradition of celebrating Oktoberfest.

Against this backdrop, the Kampala Food Network will again be holding the Oktoberfest this year. The 2016 edition is scheduled to take place on Saturday, 1st October 2016, again at the Uganda Museum.

Dr. Peter Blomeyer, the current German Ambassador to Uganda, has agreed to be again the Guest of Honor for Oktoberfest Kampala.

Kampala Food Network invites The Ruparelia Foundation to be part and parcel of this event as a sponsor. We are seeking support from The Ruparelia Foundation in two ways: as the official sponsor of the Kampala Food Network Hospitality Tent, and with regards to covering the media components of Television, Radio and Print Advertising and Public Relations, and logistical costs, as defined in our Event Budget (see attachment).

We feel that in Oktoberfest Kampala, your foundation and its various brands will benefit from an event that offers you significant mileage, as well as an important opportunity to indulge in corporate and community interaction.

As part of the 'Heart of Uganda' media drive for events and festivities planned around the Kampala City Festival by Kampala Capital City Authority (KCCA), the 2016 edition of Oktoberfest Kampala will be bigger. It will also be 'more Oktoberfest', with more activities, and greater attention to costumes and the traditions of the world's most famous beer festival.

We look forward to a prosperous partnership.

Sincerely yours,

US$ 5,000,000/-
